Farm House Destroyed By Fire.

The home and household goods of Addison Missman, on the Nicholas Mosshold-er farm, five miles from this city, on the Chicago road, was destroyed by fire this morning. A defective chimney is supposed to have been the cause. The family were all out in the corn field when they saw the blaze. The first to give the alarm was Mr. Allwood, a neighbor. A very little furniture was saved.

—Will Schuler and Bob Adams are up the river at Castle Rock camping out, enjoying themselves fishing and hunting.
They remain while Indian summer is with us.

—A. S. Walter, of Ohio, this state, and Andrew Worfield, of Clinton, Iowa, are being shown the sights of our city and beauty of our surrounding country by J. F.
Walter.

—Nebraska on wheels will arrive at the C. & N. W. depot this evening. The exhibit will be interesting. Visit it before ten o'clock to-morrow as it will leave for the west then.

—Cunningham and Jackson have just received several consignments from Chicago of feather beds to be made into mattresses. This is a rapidly growing business in our city.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Long at their home in Dement Town were happily surprised by a few of their friends and neighbors last evening. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

—Dr. J. H. Miller, accompanied by his sister who is attending school here, left the city this morning for Bureau county where they will visit their parents. On Friday the Doctor will operate on two valuable horses at Malden, where he formerly practiced, and on Saturday will go to Morris, Grundy county, to assist in a number of surgical operations. The doctor expects to return Sunday evening.

—M. W. A. meet to-night.

—Louis Gurnee drove to Oregon to day.

—Gen. T. J. Henderson is in the city
—Wm. Darling has returned from Chicago.

—E. J. Camp has returned from a trip to Sterling.

—The Danger Signal troupe will give Amboy a good show.

—W. J. Wingert has gone to Iowa on a week's business trip.

—John Carpenter and Steve Austin are up the river fishing to-day.

—The bricks for the first story at the Fargo shoe factory are laid.

—H. O. Wheeler, C. H. Thoman and Ed. Winders are taking in Mendota today.

—Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Francis Coffey, are visiting relatives and friends in the east for a week.

—Scarlet fever is reported at the homes
of Peter Ellis and Mrs. E. L. Nosworthy, in North Dixon.

—Miss Alice Treat, of Polo, visited at the I. D. Appleford residence in North Dixon yesterday.

—Mrs. Theron Cummins was called by telegram to Bucyrus, Ohio, on account of the death of her brother-in-law, Mr.
Rouse.

—W. H. Hannis, of Polo, and Miss Ida
M. Casteline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Wm. H. Casteline, of North Dixon, were married by Rev. W. D. Fuller at the Baptist parsonage at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was a very private affair with none but members of the two families present. Mr. and Mrs. Hannis went to their new home in Polo to-day with the best wishes for their future happiness of all who know them.

—A special train from Chicago arrived here last evening, under the charge of Conductor William Hawley, of the C. &
N. W., conveying Superintendent Otto Miller and a corps of engineers, whose business it is to decide on the route of the continuation of the belt line to the Dixon Ice Houses. Conductor Hawley was shown the sites of our city last night
by assistant train master, Fred Hatch, and Conductor John Barge.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

A Quiet Wedding at High Noon To-Day

For some time past there has been considerable quiet whispering—a sort of on dit
of what the dicky birds say concerning the approaching nuptials of the young couple which took place exactly at twelve o'clock this day, but nothing definite was known until very recently as to the real fact. That dame rumor should wag her tongue when an event so important to our good society was approaching goes without saying, for the young couple are so well and favorably known to all our people that it could not be otherwise than that they on such an event might be the fruitful source of sweet conversation. At twelve o'clock, the moment when the sun crossed the meridian, a most fitting hour for good people to touch the full meridian of their glory and happiness on earth, at the residence of the bride's parents, (Mr. and Mrs. Jason C. Ayres) was married Mr.
Lewman David Dement with Miss Anna
Bean Ayres, all of this city; the Rev. S.
Earney, of the M. E. church officiated.
The room in which the ceremony was consummated was neatly decorated with flowers and just back of the Reverend gentlemen the mantle was covered with a mass of roses, symposium and chrysthemums. Four ushers, Messrs. J. E.
Thomas, Wm. McBride and Geo. Dement,
the latter is a brother of the groom,
held the ribbons that separated the people from the bride and groom as they marched to the officiating clergyman at rear of the room; while the sweet-toned charms of the wedding march swelled forth from the instrument at which presided the accomplished Mrs. C. W.
Schick.

After the ceremony the company partook of a feast and at 2:20 this afternoon the happy couple took the train at the Northwestern station for the east, expecting to be absent only a few days.
The presents were rich and numerous.

We may say that it was a quiet affair in all respects, there being present only relatives and a few personal friends, whose names we give herewith: Reverend and Mrs. S. Earney, Messrs. and Mesdames
E. C. Parsons, George Squires, C. A. Dement,
Leonard Andrus, F. O. Coleman,
C. W. Schick, Elias Bovey; Mesdames
Joseph Crawford, Delia Huntley, A. T.
Murphy, Charles Dement, (mother of the groom); Misses Millie Dement, Soule, Wynn, Murphy, Laura Murphy; Mr. J.
W. Crawford. During the time the wedding party were waiting for the hacks to carry them to the depot, that supposed to be sure way of telling who would be next of the young people to embrace matrimony, was tried. A rose thrown from the stairland into the hall below was caught by Miss May Soule and William McBride; but William has had the good fortune to catch such mascots so often that we are by sheer force of the laws of chance compelled to proclaim again that "All sings fall in a drouth." THE TELE-GRAPH extends congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Louie D. Dement for long life and happiness.

H. S. CLUB REUNION.

The Jo'ly Girls Mission of Fun and Charity
in its Happy Days—Speeches and Regrets—Sharp and Crisp—Pathos and Sorrow.

For the benefit of the absent members of the H. S. Club as well as their many friends here and elsewhere who have watched with kindly interest the establishment and progress of the organization,
THE TELEGRAPH has succeeded in obtaining a report of their last reunion at the luncheon given by Miss Eells on Saturday, the 24th.

THE TELEGRAPH well remembers the days when a lot of bright young girls, eager for fun and filled with an ambition to do good, joined heads and hands and pin-money and gave to their organization the mystic name H. S. For amusement they bought an eight oared barge and rowed it arrayed in natty little suits of grey and scarlet; they had dances and picnics and camping parties. To raise money for their charities they gave amateur dramatic performances, soirees, musicals, a Japanese tea party (the most successful entertainment of its kind ever given in Dixon) and masked balls. They adopted a singing waif named Georgia Girard, sent her to school and clo'd her until—through the influence of Judge Shaw, of Mt. Carroll,—she was taken up by Dr. Thomas and other wealthy Chicagoans and sent east to study music. They did many other noble acts which are not generally known for this was a club of young gentlemen, the flower of Dixon girlhood, who in their modesty and refinement would not let their right hand know what their left hand did.

Time has wrought many changes and the members are scattered far and wide,
so that only nine assembled at the hospitable Eells' mansion on Saturday, nine earnest and thoughtful women represented the group of twenty-five hydenish school girls of thirteen years before.
However, as we say of political meetings,
"what they lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm," and could we have joined the group around that table, upon which the wax tapers shed a soft, yellow glow, we should have called to mind Disraeli's answer to a pert and shallow young man who asserted that a woman is not worth looking at after she's twenty-five. "Nor worth talking with before," replied the Premier.

Time has laid his hand so lightly upon these girl-women that we find it almost impossible to realize how the years have flown since we first began to guess what H. S. meant. We don't know yet what it means; we never expect to know, for they have proven the falsity of one of our slanders against their sex and kept their secret well, but we do know that this last reunion was a grand success, and while they sat around that faultlessly arranged table and enjoyed the dainty viands prepared with such skill and served with such exquisite taste, from the bouillon to the coffee, which was taken in the drawing room, there was a constant "feast of reason and a flow of soul" led by the graceful and cultivated hostesses; while the frequent and affectionate references made to absent members showed that time and separation have not weakened the tie which binds the H. S. Club together. The sentiment to which each guest was expected to respond was written upon a card tied with the boating colors, grey and scarlet, and placed by each plate.
We give them in their order together with a brief outline of the responses,
some of which were given extemporaneously, while others were read from man-script.

"H. S." "Name of mystic meaning, what treasures in thy depths are found?"
was responded to by Clara Rink. She spoke enthusiastically of the past and expressed a wish that there might be a renewal of interest in the club among the members who are still here. Here remarks brought out an expression of approval that was unanimous.

"Auld Lang Syne." "And now they sing a song of memory" (Coleridge) was assigned to Kittie Shaw Bethea, who was not present, but who sent a letter from which we clip the following:

"How short a time it seems since we participated in Our Picnics, Our Boating, and Our Camping that have been brought back so forcibly to your mind this afternoon. We remember when the 'H. S.'
club was organized and how important we felt it when the mystic letters caused so much comment. Most of our recollections are joyous ones. The years call to us the happy sunlit years of girlhood.
We look back to the many pleasant hours
we spent together and the warm friendships we formed. Life looks more real to us than it did ten years ago. It has brought to all of us joy, and to many of us sorrow. Then we thought it would always hold the loves and friendships of girlhood, and that they never could give place to anything else half so dear. We did not realize that death, distance and time would each of them make only holy memories of these affections. While there have been many changes since then and we have no more of those pleasant gatherings there are compensations for even such joys. We have Our Husbands, not quite enough to go round, to be sure,
but Our Spinsters, we know, can say, as did the English maiden to an inquiring Dixon child, "Bless your art I've had lots of opportunities and that's a comfort."

What will be done with the people who come here to operate the Fargo factory?
There are not at this time more than half a dozen empty houses in the city.
The present rents are paying well for the investments, and there is no probability that they will be lower.

Not less than 50' to 100 families will come to make Dixon their home between now and the first of January if they can find places to live.

The Fargo shoe factory will be a great institution and Dixon is a beautiful city and its growth for the next year will be wonderful.

invest it here in our own city and you cannot invest it too soon. For "sure

THE WAY IT WENT.

Later Election Figures Confirm the Early Estimates.

IOWA AGAIN GOES FOR GOV. BOIES.

His Plurality Likely to Reach 10,000—Republicans Have the Legislature on Joint Ballot, but the Democrats Capture the Senate—Flower Claims 45,000 in New York and Hill Says the Legislature Is Democratic—Later Returns from Ohio, Kansas, and Nebraska—The Ohio Senatorship.

DES MOINES, Nov. 5.—Complete official returns have been received from thirty-four counties. These give Boies a majority of 12,222 over Wheeler. This is a net gain for Boies of more than 1,000 over the vote two years ago. The other state officers are well up with him. Governor Boies' majority cannot, by these figures, be less than 8,500. The full count of the state will not be completed before today or tomorrow. Meanwhile the count of the legislature remains about the same as before reported. The Democrats have surely elected 45 out of 100 members of the house.

From Unofficial Returns.
Unofficial returns indicate Boies' plurality at 1,000. Eighty-eight counties give him 12,806. The other 11, two years ago, went 3,084 Republican, reducing the first figure to 9,722. But proportionate gains in these 11 should increase the plurality to 10,000. Democrats claim the election of the whole state ticket, as it runs well up with Boies. Day, for railroad commissioner, runs ahead in many counties. This senate stands 25 Democrats, 24 Republicans and 1 Independent. Republicans have a majority of 2 or 3 in the house.

Boies' Reception at Des Moines.
Governor Boies arrived in this city last night and was met by an immense crowd. The governor was escorted to the Grand opera house and appeared upon the outer balcony. The cheers that greeted him lasted many minutes. When silence was at last restored the governor said: "Fellow citizens: Let me thank you for this enthusiastic reception. You have a right to rejoice. The Democratic party of Iowa has won a great victory. [Cheers.] Now, if we will learn to use the power we have, we will make it a Democratic state; and now, after thanking you again, let me bid you good night." The crowd then dispersed and Governor Boies went to his rooms at the Savoy hotel.

Democrats Jubilating.
The Democrats had a regular old-fashioned jubilee last night over the success of Boies. Fires were burning all over the state and Democrats marching the street with brass bands celebrating their victory. A great jollification meeting will be held here Saturday night.

The Legislature Is Republican.
LATER—It is now practically conceded that the legislature will be Republican on joint ballot by a very narrow margin, though late returns in doubtful districts may wipe out this majority. The Democrats have gained control of the senate by a working majority over all the upper branch standing: Democrats, 26; Republicans, 23; People's, 1. The house on present returns will stand: Republicans, 55; Democrats, 45.

GOV. RUSSELL'S PLURALITY.

It Will Be Very Close to 6,913—The Legislature Republican.
BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The plurality received by Governor Russell is not accurately known, but all but three small towns have been heard from. Without these towns the figures are as follows: Russell, 154,082; Allen, 147,769; Russell's plurality, 6,913. The missing towns will not lower these figures more than a score, if at all. The Republicans have elected the rest of their state ticket by about the same plurality, showing that Governor Russell ran fully 14,000 ahead of his ticket.

Gains Among the Lawmakers.
The legislature shows decided Republican gains. The senate, with five districts to hear from, stands 23 Republicans and 12 Democrats, and the missing districts will probably give one Republican and two Democrats, with two doubtful. Last year the senate was a tie between the parties. The house at present stands 115 Republicans and 55 Democrats, with 67 members lacking. Last year the complexion of the house was 140 Republicans and 100 Democrats.

The Election in Maryland.
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 5.—Frank Brown, for governor, carried the state by something over 30,000 plurality in Tuesday's election. The legislature will stand on joint ballot 103 Democrats, 14 opposition. The senate will only have four Republicans, who are held-over senators. In the house of delegates there are seven Republicans and 3 Democrats. In the Western Maryland circuit, Stake, the Republican candidate for associate judge, is elected by over 600 majority.

Complete Figures from Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Complete figures from 53 of the 67 counties in the state, including Philadelphia and Allegheny, and estimates for the other 14 counties show a plurality of 56,608 for Gregg, Rep., for auditor general, and 53,838 for Morrison, Rep., for state treasurer. Only 10 counties in the state gave majorities for the holding of a constitutional convention. In 42 counties there is a majority of 154,590 against holding the convention.

McKinley's Plurality 17,000.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5.—The latest returns from the election indicate a plurality for McKinley of 17,000. The legislature will be divided politically as follows: Senate—Republicans, 21; Democrats, 10; House—Republicans, 74; Democrats, 23. It will thus be seen that the Republicans have a two-thirds majority in both branches of the legislature.

Nearly a Clean Sweep at Chicago.
CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Later returns from the county election confirm former dispatches. The only successful Democrat was Cooley for drainage trustee. The Republicans swept the rest of the board by good majorities.

A Clean Victory in Kansas.
TOPEKA, Nov. 5.—The result of the election in Kansas was a surprise to all parties. The Republicans carried 85 out of the 106 counties of the state. The result is a great victory for the Republicans, who were aided by Democrats in some localities. Ten out of the eleven Alliance candidates for district judge were defeated.

The New Jersey Legislature.
TRENTON, Nov. 5.—Corrected returns show the election of Strahan, Ind.-Dem., in the First, Honce, Dem., in the Second, and Parker, Rep., in the Third district of Monmouth; D. Lowe, Rep., in the First, and White, Dem., in the Second district of Burlington county; Strimpie, Dem., in Salem county. This makes the house stand 42 Democrats, 18 Republicans. The senate stands 16 Democrats, 5 Republicans.

Democrats Claim New York Legislature.
ALBANY, Nov. 5.—Governor Hill said last evening that, according to his private advisers from various parts of the state, the Democrats had secured control of both branches of the legislature. He claims eighteen of the thirty-two senators, and sixty-eight of the 128 assemblymen. Governor-elect Flower, on his way through Albany yesterday afternoon, said he estimated his plurality at 45,000.

Close Election in Nebraska.
OMAHA, Nov. 5.—The supreme judge election is in doubt. It will be very close and both the Independents and Republicans claim L. Bond. Rep. is elected mayor of Omaha, and the Republicans have also elected all the county and city officers, except three members of the city council.

Jolley's Plurality in South Dakota.
HURON, S. D., Nov. 5.—Returns last night indicated the election of Jolley, Rep., to congress by 5,000 plurality. The independent vote has decreased one-third since last fall.

Republicans Carry Detroit.
DETROIT, Nov. 5.—The Republicans have won the city ticket apparently by a safe majority. Mayor Pingree, Rep., has run considerably ahead of the ticket.

THE ELECT AND DEFEATED.
Congratulations for McKinley and Condolence for Campbell.

CANTON, O., Nov. 5.—Major McKinley is quietly resting at the Hotel Hartford in this city. Yesterday afternoon he received advice from Chairman Hahn to the effect that his plurality would not fall short of 19,000 and that the legislature would be Republican by upwards of thirty on joint ballot. McKinley has been flooded with congratulatory telegrams from all over the country. Among those who sent messages were President Harrison, Governor Campbell, J. Sloan Fassett, Sec. at War, Sherman, Benjamin Butler, Gov. of New York, Secretary Foster, and General Alger. The governor-elect will remain in Canton until inauguration day. Tonight he will address a jollification meeting of Republicans.

The Randall Club's Sympathy.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5.—The following telegram was received by Governor Campbell from Pittsburgh:

Accept our heartfelt sympathy, but we earnestly hope this is not your last effort. In frequency of the effort, although successful otherwise, feel your defeat sorry. We heartily congratulate you for the noble fight you have waged for Democratic principles, and earnestly hope to be present at your inauguration to the highest office in the nation.

RANDALL CLUB.

Flower Weaned Home.
WATERBURY, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Governor-elect Flower, returning last evening from New York city was received by thousands of citizens, who tendered him a grand ovation. A carriage, drawn by six white horses, was in waiting, which the governor-elect entered. A parade was then formed and Mr. Flower was escorted through the city to his home where Mayor Foster made a few remarks of welcome. Mr. Flower responded in a feeling manner.

FORAKER AND THE SENATORSHIP.

He Is in the Race if Wanted—A Movement Against Brice.
CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—Ex-Governor Foraker was interviewed yesterday on his position in regard to the United States senatorship. Said he: "I stand just where I have stood from the beginning. I don't intend to run after or away from the senatorship."

"You seem to be advised of agreeable news, governor."
"Yes, I am getting a great deal of information this morning as to the senatorial preference of the members elect of the legislature. I don't care to give names, but my senses assure me of the support of more than sixty members of the general assembly."

Believe It Means Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—A careful canvass of leading Democrats now at the capital shows a unanimity of opinion that Cleveland will be the presidential nominee of their party next year. There is not a dissenter from this view. Democrats who opposed Cleveland in printed interviews just after his anti-trust letter last winter are now declaring that his nomination is a foregone conclusion.

Smashed a Ballot-Box.
BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 5.—Edwin Wood, postmaster and clerk of election, was placed under $1,000 bonds yesterday for smashing a ballot-box at Menoken, fourteen miles east of Bismarck. Wood charges fraud in the county commissioners' election, and claims that he smashed the ballot-box in a fit of madness. The precinct gave a majority against his candidate.

The Alliance Cut No Figure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—One of the most strongly marked features of the result is the complete disappearance of the Farmers' Alliance. This does not seem to have cut any figure even in Ohio, where it made its hardest fight. It looks very much as though the Alliance was out of politics, and that it will disappear as a factor in the national problem before next election.

After Brice's Seat.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5.—The charge that Senator-elect Brice has no residence in the state has been revived, and it is said that a movement is on foot to declare this election void, and send both Sherman and Foraker to the United States senate.

Noted Ball Player Dying.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—"Old Hoss" Frank Flint is lying on his deathbed at his divorced wife's home on the south side. He was taken sick some three weeks ago and has had a violent hemorrhage since, which almost proved his death. Since that time he has been unable to take any nourishment, and the doctors say he will never be able to leave his bed again.

BRAWNY POLITICS.

Make the Irish Campaign Very Interesting.

BLACKTHORN AND BATON ACTIVE.

A Serious Riot at Waterford—Anti-Parnellite Convention Only Saved from Dispersion by the Police—Women Among the Most Fervent of the Fighters—O'Brien and Tanner gave a Hot Reception at Cork—The Hospital Full of Wounded—The Healy's Horsewhipping Episode.

DUBLIN, Nov. 5.—The contest between the Parnellites and Healyites is growing warmer all over Ireland. Waterford was yesterday the scene of a serious riot, in which the Parnellites were the aggressors, and would have dispersed their opponents but for the police. The occasion of the disturbance was the convention of the anti-Parnellite national federation. Waterford city is a Parnellite stronghold, and an excited crowd gathered outside the door of the convention and hooted and jeered the delegates as they went in. Many attempts at violence were made and at last a desperate riot took place. The Parnellites made a desperate attempt to disperse the convention. The police repeatedly charged them and used their batons vigorously. The mob was a determined one and fought stubbornly. It was only with the greatest effort that the officers were able to successfully cope with the rioters.

Hard Work Fighting Women.
The police fought at a great disadvantage, owing to the number of women in the crowd, with whom officers did not care to deal too vigorously, but who fought even more furiously than the men. One woman, a virago about six feet tall and 50 years of age, laid about her in such a vigorous way as to put two constables hors du combat. It took three others to bear her, kicking and screaming, a prisoner, from the melee, her screams being every now and then mixed with yells of "Murderers," "Traitors," and other epithets intended for the McCarthyites. But for the police it is almost certain that the convention would have been overwhelmed by a raging mob, bent upon its annihilation. The convention was attended by many priests, and several of these offered to assist the police in beating off the Parnellite assaults. The police, however, declined any aid.

O'Brien and Tanner Stoned.

CORK, Nov. 5.—The Parnellites stoned the anti-Parnellites from the roof of the Cork market yesterday. William O'Brien received a blow on the head, and Dr. Tanner was struck to the ground. The man who was driving the car in which the two sat had his skull fractured. Several Parnellites made an attack on the M. P.s, and their friends with sticks, and were stoutly resisted. The hospital is kept busy attending to the injured.

TIM HEALY CAN'T SIT DOWN.

McDermott Seeks to Have Done His Work Very Well.

DUBLIN, Nov. 5.—Tim Healy is greatly disturbed by the publicity which has been given to his horsewhipping by the press. He now declares that he throttled McDermott and prevented him from striking. There are plenty of witnesses to the contrary. These witnesses heard at least fifty strokes of the horsewhip as McDermott, raised the blows on Healy, while Healy, who was on his knees, yelled with pain, and calling for some one to help him.

Wept With Vexation and Pain.

Healy must be black and blue all over from McDermott's blows, and it is believed that the real reason he refused to complain against McDermott for the assault was his fear that the whole story would come out in the courts. As for the horsewhipping Healy wept with vexation and pain, and has since been unable to sit down, at least in public.

Fenians Furious at Healy.

The Fenians are again furiously excited over the news from Waterford and the fact that Healy, in making a speech at an anti-Parnellite meeting after he was thrashed by McDermott, again alluded to Mrs. Parnell as an "English prostitute." It is said that Healy has armed himself and will attempt to kill McDermott if the latter repeats the assault.

DR. BRIGGS' CASE DISMISSED.

This Action Taken for the Sake of Peace in the Church.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—What promised to be a notable church trial came to a sudden end in the Scotch church on West Fourteenth street yesterday. It was no less than the arraignment of Professor Charles W. Briggs, of the Union Theological seminary, for announcing doctrines in an inaugural address at the seminary which were in conflict with the Presbyterian belief. The charges and specifications made a document of 30,000 words. Dr. John C. Bliss was the moderator of the presbytery, which met with a full attendance. Professor Briggs had his friends present, and announced that he would defend himself. The charges being read, the professor filed objections to their sufficiency, and made an extended speech in his own defense.

Sudden Close of the Case.

Dr. Van Dyke offered a resolution to dismiss the charges. An attempt to lay this on the table was defeated. After much debate R. V. D. G. Wylie offered an amendment to Van Dyke's resolution to the effect that while the presbytery does not approve Dr. Briggs' views the case be dismissed in the interests of peace in the church. Van Dyke accepted this amendment, and the resolution was adopted as amended—94 to 83. Briggs was warmly congratulated, but Dr. Birch, chairman of the prosecuting committee, gave notice of an appeal. The presbytery then adjourned to Monday.

Snow Storms the Threshing.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 5.—Snow, which began falling Monday at noon, is drifting. Many of the threshing crews brought here from Minnesota and Wisconsin are returning home and all east-bound trains are crowded with farm laborers. Much of the grain will not be threshed until next spring.

Suicide of a Young Lady.

DULUTH, Nov. 5.—Miss Frances Sloan, aged 20 years, daughter of a prominent West End restaurant keeper, committed suicide yesterday by shooting herself through the heart. No cause can be assigned.

COMMENTS OF THE CABINET.

Foster, Rusk and Miller Express Their Views—The President's Views.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Secretary Foster returned to Washington from Ohio shortly after noon yesterday and was at his desk in the treasury department within a couple of hours thereafter. He is very happy over McKinley's victory. He said that the result in Ohio was a complete vindication of the protection principle. "The McKinley bill," he said, "has worked out its own salvation. We were brave enough to fight fairly and squarely on the tariff, and the result proved that the people are satisfied with the bill. The fight made on state issues, but we were bound that the real issue should be faced. Protection and honest money were vindicated." The election of a Republican legislature he supposed meant that Sherman would succeed himself.

"Uncle Jerry" Feels Revenged.

Secretary Rusk declares that the elections went as he expected, and he was not at all surprised. The only comment he had to make was that he would be in favor of restoring the tariff on hides. As the Massachusetts shoe manufacturers, for whose benefit hides were put on the list, had voted with the Democrats, he believed it a good idea to make them pay more for their hides.

Attorney General Miller said that he thought the Republicans had reason to be gratified at the victory in Ohio, where national issues were fought over. In Michigan and South Dakota, he said, congressmen were elected on these issues, and if in New York a fight had been made on national issues the result would have been a victory for the Republicans.

Looked for Defeat in New York.

The Star says: "The president objects to being quoted directly, but in a general way states in conversation that the only place where national issues entered into the campaign was in Ohio, and that therefore, the election of Mr. McKinley is particularly significant and gratifying. He expressed disappointment at the result in New York, but intimated that he had expected it from the moment that the campaign degenerated into a fight with Tammany as an issue. He thinks that if national issues had been kept to the front the result would have been different."

A Telegram from Hahn.

The president yesterday received a telegram from Chairman Hahn, of Ohio, giving the result of the election, and replied as follows: "Thanks for the good news, and congratulations to yourself and the party upon a victory won by a courageous advocacy of right principles. BENJAMIN HARRISON."

THE EDITORS HAVE THEIR SAY.

New York Papers on the Result of the State Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The World says editorially regarding the election that a momentous victory for Democracy and good government is won in this state. "Tom Platt is beaten in his effort to seize upon the state and rule it as his province." The World assumes that the election means that New York is soundly Democratic in national affairs and that it presages the success of the party's presidential candidate in next year's election.

Why Fassett Was Defeated.

The Press says Fassett was defeated because the Republicans above Harlem bridge failed to do their duty. It adds, in view of the good showing made by Fassett in New York city, that there is at least a moral victory in defeat in the knowledge that the citizens of this metropolis are becoming educated to the evils of Tammany rule.

Looks Hopeful to the Tribune.

The Tribune says that the elections of Tuesday show that the Republican party is handsomely regaining its strength, but has not yet gained quite enough to make sure its success in the presidential contest of next year. It has another year in which to push its advantage.

A Political Revolution.

The Sun says that the Democratic ticket developed above the Harlem strength that upset all previous calculations, and amounted to nothing less than a political revolution. It attributes this astonishing result not less to the personal popularity of Mr. Flower and the general confidence in his sterling character than to the melancholy exhibition of moral and intellectual inadequacy which constituted Mr. Fassett's campaign.

Thinks the Tariff Did It.

The Times says the result of the election in this state is an unmistakable verdict against the Republican party under the leadership of Thomas C. Platt. It adds that the result is something more than a verdict against Plattism. It is a defeat of the Republican party on the tariff issue, and will have a controlling force in the contest next year.

Opinions on the Ohio Election.

In regard to the election in Ohio The Press says the national administration has been triumphantly upheld. Ohio's verdict unmistakably indicates a Republican national victory on the issues of protection to American industry and currency next year. The Times says the majority for McKinley is hardly large enough to be regarded as a vindication of the peculiar fiscal policy with which McKinley's name is so intimately connected.

The Signatures Were Forgeries.

ASHLAND, Wis., Nov. 5.—James Nagle, who was convicted at Ashland in 1885 of assault and sentenced by the late Judge Barron to fifteen years, abused the judge, who doubled the sentence. Nagle applied for a pardon to Governor Hoard, and the petition purported to be signed by the woman in the case, her husband and parents. Governor Peck sent a detective to Ashland, who found that all the signatures were forgeries.

Typhus in the Russian Army.

VIENNA, Nov. 5.—It is reported that nearly 2,000 of the Russian troops on the Front have perished of typhus. When the bulk of the force was removed some distance inland, the sick were left almost without help, and these are perishing daily.

Races at Ga. Field Park.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The races at Garfield park yesterday were won as follows: J. 1, 3/4 mile, 1:17 1/2; Major Nolan, 1:16; 1:16, 1:16 1/2; Major Nolan, 1:16; 1:16, 1:16 1/2; Cast Out, 3/4 mile, 1:15; Winslow, 1 1/2 miles, four hurdles, 2:03.

Killed Wife, Son and Himself.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Sigfried Goeck, a German in south San Francisco, hanged his wife and infant son to death yesterday with a hatchet and then hanged himself. No cause is known for the tragedy.

This positively will be one of the most successful

SPECIAL SALE

Ever Inaugurated By the Plymouth Clothing House.

The past week has simply been an eye-opener to the fearful butchery in prices we intend to inaugurate. We want no peace—and opposition will receive no quarter from the Plymouth. We are here for the public's benefit and all overtures from competition to stop cutting prices because we ruin the 100 per cent trade, find deaf ear at "The Plymouth." We can physically decline to enter into partnership with high prices and we will proceed to backen in high style the other eye of the would-be competitors. War to the end and our customers shall receive the benefit of our spoils, is our motto. As an evidence that we mean just what we say we will place on sale

FINEST SUITS AND OVERCOATS

That ever were transferred from a manufacturer's counters to the tables of a retail dealer and will sell them at the slightest possible advance on cost price. All previous sales pale into utter dimness before this Black Eye Sale prepared especially for the delirium of clothing dealers hereabouts.

The Plymouth with its customary pluck and enterprise and in order to protect those living within a radius of forty miles of Dixon against extortionate country merchants' prices as well for the purpose of bringing trade to our city will pay railroad fare on all purchases from $15.00 up. We absolutely guarantee without any reservation to refund the purchase money and pay liberally for loss of time if any patron of our House can find values that will compare favorably with ours during this sale for less than 33 1/3 percent more than we charge.

HELD UP THE TRAIN

Kansas City Express Robbed by Six Men.

ONLY EIGHT MILES OUT OF OMAHA.

The Enterprise Nets the Thieves $3,500.—A Daring Job Done by Experts—Passengers Kept Quiet by the Display of "Guns" While the Work Was Proceeding—The Strong Box Broken Open with Section Men's Tools

OMAHA, Nov. 5.—The Kansas City express train on the Missouri Pacific road was held up by six masked men about 10 o'clock last night, one mile west of West Side, eight miles from this city. At that point the train had to stop before crossing the F. & M. V. tracks. Two of the men boarded the engine and with cocked revolvers commanded Engineer Hall to get off the engine. The others boarded the express car.

Didn't Have to Have Keys.
Upon being refused the keys to the box they proceeded to break it open with tools which they had secured from a section house. While two of the men worked on the strong box the others compelled the passengers to keep their seats. The thieves secured about $3,500 on the safe and then backing off ordered the train to pull out. They then disappeared in the darkness. The sheriff and police are out after them.

NINE MEN WERE KILLED.

Details of the Disaster at the Anaconda Mine Near Butte

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 5.—The most terrible accident in the history of Montana, occurred in the Anaconda mine a few minutes after midnight yesterday morning in which nine men were killed and one injured. The killed are: James O'Donnell, Charles M. Evans, John Ritchie, James G. Sullivan, Patrick Mulligan, Michael McAvoy, James Roach, W. M. Martin, Dennis Shanahan, Jerry Harrington is injured but not fatally.

Too Many Men on the Cage.
At the 900 foot level a large number of men were waiting to be raised to the surface for their lunch. The cage has an upper and lower deck, and the rules are that only nine men shall be allowed on each deck. In this case, however, the men crowded into the cage and it is believed that not less than twenty started on the terrible ride to death. When between the 300 and 400-foot levels James O'Donnell, who was on the upper deck, lost his self-possession and fell over the side of the cage. He fell between the cage and the wall of the shaft down to the lower deck of the cage, where he struck the men crowded there in such a way as to knock almost all of them off.

The Bodies Horribly Mangled.
Altogether eight men were knocked from the cage down to the sump, which is 1,200 feet below the surface. Two others were brought to the surface badly injured, and one of them died in a short time. The bodies brought to the surface were so badly mangled as to be scarcely recognizable except by their clothing. In some cases the bodies were so crushed that only a basketful of remains could be gathered.

Ex-President Cleveland's View.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Ex-President Cleveland says of the election: "Any man who still thinks that tariff reform is a settled and obsolete issue or that the importance of sound and sane money is a question upon which the people can be blinded is either wilfully wrong or dangerously dull. While the election of Flower, Russell and Boies ought to cause the utmost rejoicing among Democrats they should not forget that with these things comes the obligation to be true to the people, honest in the advocacy of our principles, and decent in all things."

The Assets Are Very Short.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Dirk Wilson, who has been doing business with Eugene Weiss under the firm of Wilson & Weiss, has asked the superior court to dissolve the partnership. Weiss says their business, which is the manufacturing of sash, doors and blinds, has been misconducted through negligence of the plaintiff. The firm's assets are represented by Wilson's bill to be $2,400 against $40,000 liabilities.

Affairs of the Maverick.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Examiner Ewer, of the Maverick National bank, says that he hopes to get out within three or four days some sort of a statement that will enable the other banks to gauge the advances that shall be made to the depositors. They can say nothing at present as to what this will show, but intimate that it will be a good deal worse than has been anticipated.

Captain Yates Dead.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The navy department has received a dispatch announcing the death of Captain Arthur R. Yates, commandant of the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, from heart disease at that yard. Captain Yates was appointed from New York and has seen thirty-eight years' service, sixteen of which were spent at sea.

Fire at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 5.—Fire last night damaged Godfrey & Clark's paper warehouse to the amount of $15,000; Meyer, Arnold & Co., upholstery house, $22,000 and A. J. Walker, Sons, paper bag manufacturer, $15,000. Losses nearly covered by insurance. The Seventh Avenue hotel was also slightly scorched.

Religious Riot in Persia.

TEHERAN, Nov. 5.—Owing to a religious riot in the village of Mazandaran, Persia, the house of General Sandat Yoolle Khan was set on fire and the general and twenty other persons were killed.

Carnegie Arrives in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Among the passengers on the City of Paris, which arrived here yesterday, were Andrew Carnegie and wife. The City of Paris had also $5,000,000 in specie.

Ground Broken for a Railway.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 5.—Ground was broken Monday and work commenced on the Intercontinental railway, which is to connect the United States and Mexico with Central America.

Murder and Suicide.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—John Kremer shot and probably fatally injured his wife yesterday morning and then hanged himself on the roof of the tenement, 199 Second avenue.

LEFT THEIR COMRADES BURIED.
While They Tried to "Do Up" the Foreman of the Work.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 5.—While a gang of Italians were at work yesterday digging an excavation at Fulton and Livingston streets the earth suddenly caved in, partially burying several of the laborers. They were all under the direction of Foreman McManus. As soon as the Italians who escaped injury got out of the hole they set upon McManus who they charged with being the author of the accident.

Wanted to Kill McManus.
They chased him several blocks with their picks and shovels and would have killed him but for the opportune arrival of several policemen. Their fellow-workmen had to be dug out by firemen, while the infuriated Italians who had tried to mob McManus looked on. Several of the unfortunates were badly injured, while two—Michael McGrath and James Julio—were probably fatally injured.

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

This great divine told us once that when he began to preach, he always had a glass of water near him to wet his throat occasionally, but afterwards he reflected that nature was able to take care of the throat if left alone. This he proceeded to do, and the result was that he was soon able to talk for two hours at a stretch without any desire for water. If a public speaker will take a small teaspoonful of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure before he is called upon to make an oratorical effort he will have no trouble. His drink of water rather weakens the vocal chords that assist them, but this great remedy relieves the congestion, banishes hoarseness, and enables the speaker to discourse without difficulty. In this respect Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure has no equal among cough syrups. For sale by all druggists, All wholesalers keep it.

Shut the door against disease. Danger comes oftenest through impure blood. Keep your blood in order, and you keep in health. For this, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, and rouses every organ into healthy action. By this means it cures. Every part of the system feels its saving influence. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-sore) in its earlier stages, all yield to it. It's the only Liver, Blood and Lung Remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. Trying terms to sell on—but it's a medicine that can carry them out.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol to inebriate, and no syrup or sugar to derange digestion.

It's a concentrated vegetable extract; put up in large bottles; pleasant to the taste, and equally good for adults or children.

STERN BROS.

NEXT DOOR TO POST OFFICE.

Our children are not many in quantity but they are delightfully nice in quality. We have Our Past, Our Present and Our Future, even though the H. S. Club may be only a golden memory. Perhaps we did not appreciate at the time the far reaching good of this club whose object, at first, was to have a good time. We grew to be very loyal to our members. As time passes we find the bond has not weakened, and now we appreciate each others good qualities more than we did then.

"Here's a health to them that's awa', Here's a health to them that's awa', Here's a health to them that were here short syne, And canna be here no day."

We do not forget our absent H. S.'s. Our thoughts go out to them to-day, and right well would we like to have them all meet again. We are glad to know of their prosperity and happiness in other homes. We hope, and believe, that they have developed into good, true women. Though the yesterdays can never come back, we trust that on some fair to-morrow we shall meet again. East, West, North and South, in city and village we find them, and they come and go. Only where the west wind sweeps over a grass grown grave on the broad prairies of Dakota, one of them lies sleeping. On the hill where we catch a glimpse of our beautiful Rock river, with the wooded hills beyond, two more are waiting the Judgement Day. The years will glide by "Like grains of shining and somber sands slipping into and out of the hands," and still they will wait for us. One by one, slowly, perhaps, but O, so surely we will join them. We miss them to-day. They have gone away forever. Their lives have passed like the swaying of a pendulum, like the fading of a shadow on the floor. We have faith in the future, we believe in immortality and eternity, but we are sure of the past and its sacred memories. They never leave us. We comprehend and appreciate them. For the future we can only hope; we can not understand. In time of thought and sorrow we turn to the past and to the familiar faces of our friends for comfort.

"In the breaking gulf of sorrow,
When the helpless feet stretch out
And find in the depths of darkness,
No footing so solid as Doubt.
Then better one spar of memory,
One broken plank of the past,
That our human hearts may cling to,
Though hopeless of shore at last."
Truly "old acquaintance" are "ne'er forgot," nor "the days of auld lang syne."

"Our Picnic Days."
"Can we ever forget them—our picnic days? And the charm of wood and sky? The gleaming river; the joyous hearts; And the glad hours slipping by?"
Was considered by Jessie Manning Lord, who also gave reminiscences of other frolics, dances, boat rides, card parties and "teas." Her first sentences brought forth such a flood of recollections that she was constantly obliged to pause to give way to some one else. The proceedings at this point were not conducted according to "strict parliamentary rules," and the frequent exclamations, "Oh yes!" and "do you remember?"—were followed by such a volley of reminiscences that it would almost seem as though their life during those days had been one perpetual merry making.

"Our boating days." "Our days dramatic" and "Our days musical" were also treated conversationally, each one recalling some event of those exciting times; their memories being refreshed by a lot of invitations, programmes and souvenirs furnished by the hostess. They spoke of the regatta held in '79 when the rowing enthusiasm was at its highest pitch; when the aristocratic Farragut Boat Club, of Chicago, condescended to win a race before our delightful eyes (because given odds by our too generous boys!) when these young sweets made no secret of their surprise that the girls' boating club was not made up of coarse and ignorant romps—as they had expected; when at the reception given in honor of the visitors, the club, arrayed in their best gowns and "company manners" presented with a neat little speech from the then president, a beautiful banner which their hands had wrought for their friends, the boys' boating club; when all the town was proud of them, and they were proud of their president and each other.

"Our days in camp" (thereby hangs a tale) "It was the old old story, and told behind the broad blade of an oar," was put into the capable hands of Francis Porter Howell, who recalled in her own inimitable manner many laughable experiences of camp life, one of which was a "wake" held over the memory (not over the body, for that was on the road toward Dixon) of one of the young male attaches of the camp, who had departed in a state of exalted dignity, about the "story told behind the oar." The two members who had joined the club later could learn nothing. "The silence was unbroken," and the only deduction possible was, that the story telling must have been somewhat general; that each one fancied herself the culprit referred to, and so maintained a discreet silence.

"Our absent members" "Absence makes the heart grow fonder," was the sentiment given Ida Alexander Morris. Regarding the absent ones, she spoke of the wide divergence which their paths in life have taken, but yet none have passed quite beyond one's reach and knowledge, while the greater number of them occasionally find their way back to Dixon. She stated that all were leading earnest useful lives, and while shadows had come to darken the pathways of some, as a rule their lives had fallen in pleasant places, and an unusual degree of prosperity had attended them.

Mrs. Morris also spoke "In memoriam" "To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die." She paid a beautiful tribute to the memories of those who have crossed the river—Sarah Austin Todd, Mary Godfrey and Hattie Sterling Love.

"The Present" of women in general was considered by Blanche Soule Charters.

"Our Husbands." "The men think they know it all; the women know better." (Persian proverb) was assigned to Eleanor Stevens Chandler, probably because she was the first to embark upon the "unknown sea" and was therefore considered to be best qualified to do the subject justice. Her response was looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation. Unfortunately she was unable to be present so the toast was given (probably in a spirit of mischief) to Miss Kink who dismissed the matter with a wave of the hand and a supercilious "I know no good of them, so I shall say nothing" and thus were "Our Husbands" consigned to oblivion.

"Our Children,"
"A dreary place would be this earth
Were there no little people in it,
The song of life would lose its mirth
Were there no children to begin it."
(Whittier.)

Was responded to by Carrie Ashley Clarke, who pointed out the fact that whatever unanimity of opinion there may exist between members of the club upon most subjects there must necessarily be a wide diversity upon the question of "Our Babies." We who have them would not give them up nor exchange them; while we who have them not are well content to escape the fearful responsibilities of motherhood. She proposed a health to all the H. S. little folks, mentioning their names as far as they could be learned.

"Our Spinners," "In maiden meditation, fancy free," were considered with rare wit by Fannie Murphy and the various authorities upon whom she called to help her do justice to the small but mighty subject. It is unnecessary to state that Miss Murphy made a hit. We give her response in full: "Our noble army of spinsters is not what it was once. Its ranks are thinned and of all that goodly company but five are left. In the past year but one of our number has departed this life of single blessedness, though we hear that our comrade in far-away Montana is soon to desert us. Full off in days gone by have we heard the joyous wedding bells. Full many a bride has received our tribute of rice flung with such royal good will as to blind her, even more, perchance, to the defects of her husband; though it ill becomes a spinster to intimate in the presence of so many matrons that those bright and beautiful beings may have defects when she remembers that 'husband and wife are like the blades of a pair of scissors; often clashing, often differing widely, yet firmly joined together and sure to cut to pieces whatever comes between them.'"

Wherefore let the spinsters speak discreetly and with all meekness, as touching upon matters they know not of, save indeed by hearing. These sisters of ours launched on the oft-times troubled sea of matrimony, sometimes discourse of its joys. We acquiesce, but secretly opine, that "married people are like children swimming in a very cold stream and calling with chattering teeth to their mates on the shore. "Do come in, it's so warm." In life's late autumn we may indeed be the "last ungathered leaves on our ancestral trees," but let us cling there, not sad and sore, but like a crimson glory against the sunny sky. And dear old friends of the H. S. Club, matrons and spinsters all, let us never wax old, but with something of youthful fire in our hearts let us, like the genial autocrat, grow fifty, seventy, "eighty years young."

Caroline Eells spoke of "The Future" in the hopeful spirit of one whose heart and sympathies are with her fellow-beings, and whose faith in humanity is unwavering: "It is said of one of the ancient languages that it has no present tense, only a past and future, and it can truly be affirmed of human nature that it is prone to live as if this were true of life. We have been looking backward to-day with mingled smiles and tears to the 'days that are no more'—and as we turn ourselves reluctantly about we are brought face to face with the unknown future. Al! my dear girls not so eagerly as in those days of yore do we long to raise the veil that hides her face and peer into her eyes. Our point of view has changed and it too well we know that she must inevitably bring sorrow and pain and death as well as joy and blessing to each and every one of us. Yet what could better prepare us for her coming and her demands than this look backward into the past. Sad indeed would it be had we not learned by this time some of life's earnest lessons and climbed to some height of outlook at this stage of our journey through this world. And if we have found that the warp and woof of life are wrought in more sombre colors than we once supposed, yet we can see throughout its web are woven threads of gold that time can never tarnish; the golden threads—faithful love, of friendship true, of lofty purpose and of unselfish deed and we know that "death comes not to the living soul, nor age to a loving heart." So if we have learned that our lives are made rich not so much by what we receive as by what we give; not by what we have but by what we are; if we realize that our daily joy and pain have a divine significance and that we are set here to help one another; to toil cheerfully, to wreath bravely so that others shall take patience, labor, to their heart and hand from our hand and heart and our brave cheer" then may we go forth to meet "the shadowy future" with cheerful hearts. True we may feel that "Something sweet Followed youth with flying feet."

"That will never come again." Yet if life be more serious must it necessarily be more sad? September's skies are blue as June's, though their laughter be dead. The hills afar off, if not green with promise, are purpling highly with the ripening fruit. "God hath set us worthy gifts to earn," Himself and Heaven.

—With this number of THE TELEGRAPH, on the first page, begins an advertisement of Chiverton & Heckman, photographers. It will be read with interest. Mr. Chiverton has been in business in the same place for eighteen years.

—The Rev. Dr. Brobst, of Chicago, is highly spoken of as a popular, instructive lecturer and in all probability his lecture to be delivered at the Opera House to-morrow evening will be very fine. These who desire to select reserved seats can do so at Truman's this evening.

—Alderman Gonnerman's plate glass windows latest invoice not broken, are at the depot and a Chicago man will be here and take the chances of placing them in position to-morrow. We wish Mr. Gonnerman success this time. These are the largest plate glass windows that are in our city.

—Wm. H. Kelley has sold to John Wasley the strip of land used by him for a roadway into his home from Artesian Place. He now has a frontage on East Second street. Mr. Wasley will use this strip in connection with the corner cut from the Steel property by Second street and make a fine building lot.

Sudden Deaths.
Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden deaths, which in three out of four cases is unsuspected. The symptoms are not generally understood. These are a habit of lying on the right side, short breath, pain or distress in side back or shoulder, irregular pulse, asthma, weak and hungry spells, wind in stomach, swelling of ankles or dropsy, oppression, dry cough and smothering. Dr. Miles illustrated book on Heart Disease, free at Tillson & Hayden's Dixon, Ill., who sell and guarantee Dr. Miles unequalled New Heart Cure, and his Restorative Nervine which cures nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, effects of drinking, etc. It contains no opiates. 3

Startling Facts.
The American people are rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks, and the following suggests the best remedy: Alphonso Hempling, of Butler, Pa., swears that when his son was speechless from St. Vitus dance Dr. Miles great Restorative Nervine cured him. Mrs. J. R. Millitt, of Valparaiso, and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., each gained 20 pounds from taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vista, Ind., was cured of 40 to 50 convulsions a day, and much headache, dizziness, backache, and nervous prostration by one bottle. Trial bottles, and fine book of marvelous cures, free at Tillson & Hayden's, Dixon, Ill., who recommends and guarantees this unequalled remedy. 3

Stanley as an explorer, Edison as an inventor, Miss Flora A. Jones as a discoverer of the famous Blush of Roses for the complexion; are names that will be handed down as benefactors of the race, to all recorded time. Tillson & Hayden comes in for his share (of the profits) as he always keeps a big supply on hand, and sells it for 75 cents per bottle.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup.
As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by H. E. Donaldson, Druggist.

A Favorite Remedy.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite during the winter months on account of its great success in the cure of colds. There is nothing that will loosen a severe cold so quickly, or as promptly relieve the lungs. Then it counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It is pleasant and safe to take, and fully worthy of its popularity. For sale by H. E. Donaldson, Druggist.

Chase's Barley Malt Whisky being rich and nutritious, builds up the system; being free from all impurities it has a pleasant stimulative effect. Chase, Plain sole agent for Dixon.

H. L. Paul, who is representing the firm of W. A. Merigold & Co., real estate agents of Chicago, is stopping at the Na chusa Hotel and will remain here until Saturday, and he will be pleased to see anyone who is interested in Chicago realty. 2413*

People with impure blood may be said to exist, not live. Life is robbed of half its joys when the blood is loaded with impurities and disease. Correct this condition with De Witt's Sarsaparilla, it is reliable. Sold by D. S. Horton.

Soft coal that burns as clear as wood is nice and Pitcher sells it.

Who rules in this town?
Depends on the question up.
The lamp-chimney question—what sort do you break?
Whatever sort your dealer deals in.

How, do you think, he selects his chimneys?
He buys those that cost him least; he can get the regular price for them; and the faster they break the more he sells. That's how he reasons.

Tell him you want Macbeth's "pearl top" or "pearl glass," tough glass, transparent, clear, not foggy, fine, of right shape and uniform. Tell him you'll pay him a nickel more a piece, and that will cover his extra costs twice over. Tell him you don't propose to break any more. Try your hand at ruling.
